

Common European Framework of Reference for Languages

The CEFR describes what a learner is supposed to be able to do in reading, listening, speaking and writing at each level.

C	Proficient User	C2	Mastery or proficiency	Can understand with ease virtually everything heard or read.Can summarise information from different spoken and written sources, reconstructing arguments and accounts in a coherent presentation.Can express him/herself spontaneously, very fluently and precisely, differentiating finer shades of meaning even in the most complex situations
		C1	Effective Operational Proficiency or advanced	Can understand a wide range of demanding, longer texts, and recognise implicit meaning.Can express him/herself fluently and spontaneously without much obvious searching for expressions.Can use language flexibly and effectively for social, academic and professional purposes.Can produce clear, well-structured, detailed text on complex subjects, showing controlled use of organisational patterns, connectors and cohesive devices.
B	Independent User	B2	Vantage or upper intermediate	Can understand the main ideas of complex text on both concrete and abstract topics, including technical discussions in his/her field of specialisation.Can interact with a degree of fluency and spontaneity that makes regular interaction with native speakers quite possible without strain for either party.Can produce clear, detailed text on a wide range of subjects and explain a viewpoint on a topical issue giving the advantages and disadvantages of various options.
		B1	Threshold or intermediate	Can understand the main points of clear standard input on familiar matters regularly encountered in work, school, leisure, etc.Can deal with most situations likely to arise whilst travelling in an area where the language is spoken.Can produce simple connected text on topics which are familiar or of personal interest.Can describe experiences and events, dreams, hopes & ambitions and briefly give reasons and explanations for opinions and plans.
A	Basic User	A2	Waystage or elementary	Can understand sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance (e.g. very basic personal and family information, shopping, local geography, employment).Can communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar and routine matters.Can describe in simple terms aspects of his/her background, immediate environment and matters in areas of immediate need.
		A1	Breakthrough or beginner	Can understand and use familiar everyday expressions and very basic phrases aimed at the satisfaction of needs of a concrete type.Can introduce him/herself and others and can ask and answer questions about personal details such as where he/she lives, people he/she knows and things he/she has.Can interact in a simple way provided the other person talks slowly and clearly and is prepared to help.
